

Prof. (Dr.) Asita Kulshreshtha Director, Amity School of Applied Sciences Amity University, Uttar Pradesh, Lucknow

Formerly she was Incharge of Science Faculty, Karamat Hussain Muslim Girls P.G.College. She worked as CSIR-Post Doctoral Fellow at Department of Physics, North Eastern Hill University Shillong, Meghalaya and later on at Department of Physics, University of Lucknow. She obtained her degree of M. Phil and Ph.D. degree in the field of solid state Spectroscopy from Department of Physics, Aligarh Muslim University. She has 40 Publications in journals and around 30 publications in national/international conferences, and has worked as convener and organized many International and national conferences/workshops Currently she is serving as Professor of Physics and Director of the Amity School of Applied Sciences, for last three years managing the institutional academics as well as administrative responsibilities. She has 25 years of teaching Physics at graduate and post graduate level and has 6 Ph.D. Scholar enrolled under her as Supervisor. Her areas of research include work on study and characterization of nanomaterials, Role of radiation physics in cure of cancer , radiation dosimetry and Raman and infrared spectroscopic studies.